EVOLIS HIGHTRUST®

Advanced consumables for quality printing

Right since its fledgling days, Evolis has always been at the forefront of innovation by creating quality-focused products. As requirements and technologies have changed over time, and to meet versatile consumer demands, Evolis has now updated its offering in introducing a new patented range of consumables: Evolis High Trust®. This brand focuses on supporting user requirements in printing on plastic cards.

The Evolis High Trust® range provides the following benefits:
- Premium quality products
- Easy to use
- A technology design to make printing tasks simple for the user
- A key enabler in maximizing the lifespan of an Evolis printer
- A limited environmental footprint

Ribbons

Do you need color, monochrome or secured printing? Be sure that you will always find a ribbon which suits you.

Our ribbons are placed in a cartridge, for a one shot installation. When installing the ribbon, the Zenius printer instantly identifies the Evolis High Trust® ribbon and automatically initiates a calibration process that allows printouts with optimal quality.

With this recognition system that is unique to Evolis High Trust®, the user knows exactly what the remaining capacity is, as this information is readily available from the Print Center on the PC. Similarly, when the ribbon is nearing its end, an alert is displayed on-screen.

In this way, you can anticipate replenishment for your next printing.

The blister packaging is in PET so it is as well recyclable as a water bottle, and the cartridge is made of recycled material.

Cards

The Evolis High Trust® cards have an even and flat surface which ensure flawless moves under the print head (minimizing the risk of damage) and printouts with vivid colors and well-defined barcodes.
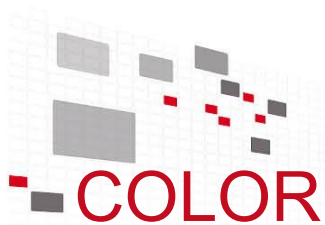

The Evolis cards are compliant with ISO CR-80 standards and delivered in a dust-free sealed packaging to help you get a better print quality.

Some cards are made of more environment-friendly material, in example cards in PETF.

Cleaning Kits

They are designed for a specific cleaning according to the maintenance of your Evolis printer: a regular or an advanced cleaning.

All our kits are easy to use, reducing your intervention during a cleaning cycle and adapted to your needs.
